DETAILED ACTION

Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance

1. Claims 1-47 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims are allowable over the prior art for at least the reason that the prior art of record, taken alone or in combination, fails to teach or reasonably suggests a method of forming an inductive device in an integrated circuit comprising a step of patterning the first layer of metal to form one or more pairs of current path regions that are generally symmetric about the plane of symmetry such that each current path region pair has one current path region on one side of the plane of symmetry and another current path region on the other side of the plane of symmetry.
